Dear Friends,

I pray that you are enjoying the blessings of summer with family and friends.

Recently my daughter returned to work after having her baby in April. Even through her boss loves having Remy in the office, it has been hard for Michelle to get her work done because of the demands Remy has of her.

Her mother-in-law will often babysit, and up until recently I was busy on Fridays. Now Fridays are Remy days and I get to babysit and enjoy my grandson with one-on-one time.

Ah, the joys of being a grandparent! I have two beautiful grand-daughters who live in south Florida. So I don't get to see them as often as I'd like. Yet there is one thing that connects all of us and that's the power of love.

I am reminded of a lesson from ministerial school on the subject of love and how it can always help us find a way to heal, adjust, or solve any condition or problem.

Love we are told is the greatest of all gifts that God has given us. We all have it within us to give to our family, friends, and the community in which we live and move and have our being. Love that loves for the sake of loving without conditions, terms, or demands.

Hold a baby in your arms and you feel the kind of love that only God can give--divine love, unconditional love. It is this kind of love that is the very essence of God's Spirit within you.

What are your needs? What is it in your life that only love can heal, adjust, or solve for you? Love will find a way. It is the energy that binds and harmonizes everything like itself to itself.

Is there a need to heal an emotional or physical ailment? Love will find a way. As we ask the questions of how to proceed, God will answer. We will be given the best method to pursue. As we affirm that God's love is all around us, we also hold that thought for all the people who are there to help us heal whatever needs to be healed.

Are you looking for guidance in your life? Love will find a way. As Jesus instructed, "Go to God first in prayer, and God will instruct you on how you are to proceed." Love will direct each soul to what is the highest and best outcome. The energy of love will help you overcome all barriers to your good as you allow it to dissolve your fear and bring light to the dark areas so you may see the light of a bright tomorrow.

Are you seeking security in your life? Love will find a way. God's love is a powerful protective presence because it will counteract any dangerous energy that may be around you. Allow the feeling of the love to come into your surroundings. Let it abide with you as you go about your daily routines. Let it speak through you as you communicate with others.

As you celebrate the 4th of July and what freedom means to you, remember that God's love will lift you out of bondage and limitation into the freedom, joy, and perfection of one of His precious children.

Abundant Blessings!
Rev. Chuck

You are invited to join me during the month of July as we celebrate Our Divine Birthright as God's children.
